

Master Introduction Week 2019

Become one of the 40 Master's Team Coordinators!

Are you a Master's student at Aarhus BSS? Or have you graduated and misses the study environment? Do you want to expand your network and your coordination skills?

We are currently looking for 40 current or former master's students to help coordinate the Master's Introduction Week 2019 and give the new Master's students a great start at Aarhus BSS. In addition to be a part of the Master's Introduction Week, you will socialize with all of the other Master's Team Coordinators at our social events throughout the summer including a small trip, Christmas dinner and reunion party. It is the perfect way to get the last and best out of your study time!

Why should you become a Team Coordinator?

As a Master's Team Coordinator, you will be co-responsible for introducing the new Master's students to their respective study programmes. You will pass on your experiences and help the new students get socially integrated.

What's in it for you?

It is a great opportunity to improve your social and professional network across different grades and study programmes while developing your coordination skills and public speaking abilities. AND you will get a summer filled with 'hygge' and social events.

What does it take?

You do not need experience – you will get that along the way. The only requirements we have for you are that you can communicate effectively in English and are able to work during the Introduction Day (June 20th), TC Days (August 22nd, 23rd) and Introduction Week (August 29th and 30th).
